Washington, June 30 .- The State of South hitherto paid, amounting to $4,916.

While this sum is not large, it is realized that the principle at issue is great and farreaching in importance. The one question luvolved is whether the internal revenue iaws of the United States apply to the dispensary system of South Carolina so as to entitle the collector to demand the pay-canon of Christ Church, and the boys' choir. The burial will be in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

It is now thought that the young man suffered a sunstroke, as he had been bathing for more than half an hour, and at the spot where he was drowned the water was scarcely five feet deep. The drowning occurred in full sight of many members of the Christ Church Cathedral Choir to which he belonged. The choir boys, in charge of the Reverend Mr. Smith, were enjoying their summs outling and had expected to remain a week longer.

The untimely death was a sad shock to the young man's parents, and his two sisters, who survive him. A career that promised much was cut short, and the fact that he was an only son, upon whom his parents looked with much pride, made their strief especially hard to bear.

Harry A. Dewes, was born March 14, 1821. He was an exceptionally brilliant and studious boy, entering the St. Louis High School when but 12 years old. The rollowing year he entered Washington University, and had he lived would have graduated from that institution in 1992. He was deeply interested in literary work, and during his last year at the High School was the editor of the High School News. For the last two years he had been editor-incher of Student Life, a paper published by the undergraduate body of Washington University. Last summer he spent his various as a reporter on a morning newspaper. He was identified with many undergraduate enterprises in the university, and not long aso established a chapter of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity, of which he was recently elected president.

The pallbarers are Archie Kehlor, Charles A. Dostal and Bert Fiske, members of Christ Church Cathedral Choir; Otto F. Harting, Harry Droste and Joseph L. Stephens, members of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon at Washington University.

A copy of the book has been presented to Lady Hope, and in an idle moment she fread one chapter, which affected her to Lears. Yesterday she sent a special messenger to Mr. Friend, asking him to call at her hotel, in West Thirty-fourth street. The softening influence of "Marital Conention" was found in the touching story of Adelbert de Bompard, a French cheviller, who quarreled with his wife because he visor of his belimet had not been olied on the morning he went forth to meet an memy on the field of honor. The hinge hised to work, Adelbert was pinked on the loss, which marred his beauty, and he left be chatean carrying with him his coat of beauty and he left had and four pairs of pumps. barring about fifteen to twenty days' lateness.

Green bugs have made a new attack on the corn fields in this section, and the crop is almost ruined. The yield will not reach half a crap in the Texas corn belt. Farmers are discouraged over corn, and predict that by December 1, or earlier, importations will have to be made, and the price will go to it per bushel for feeding purposes. Many farmers are talking seriously of disposing of much of their work stock (horses and mules), and thus reduce the expense of winter feeding to as low a price as possible. The hay crop is also very short. Haying is nearly over, and the price of prairie hay per ton is $13, as compared with $7 last year.

New York, June, 23.—The cotton market opened firmer, 5215 points higher on nervous demand from shorts and fairly active buving for outside account, based on firmer Liverpool cables than looked for, a builten summary by the Chronida of the past week on pisntations and unfavorable crop news from hearly every part of the cotton belt. Weather reports showed no real change in the Southwest, light showers being noted in pisaces where hard rains of several days duration were needed. Southern show market was reported interest and active at full former prices. Eastern millers noted continued good demand for cotto, but decreasing supplies of raw cotton. Following the call the local market advanced to 7.8% for Aug. to 7.5% for Lot and to 7.5% for Aug. to 7.5% for Jun. While there were slight reactions fater, the market displayed inherent strength, with sentiment once more decidedly builtsa. Trading was active pretty much all of the short session, the new-crop months the favorices among investors. The July opening was singularly quiet and featureless. Aug. exhibited a strong undertone on uncasiness among shorts of long standing. Receipts at the ports continue large, but had been discounted. The market closed steady, with prices 43f15 points higher. Cotton futures closed steady; July 8.5%; Aug. 7.8%; Sept. 1.57c; Oct. 1.5%; March 7.5%. England.

London, June 30.—The promised improvement in the London Stock Exchange, for which financial writers have found one excuse or another for more than a month past, this week has a most tangible reason for its nonappearance, namely, the bank failures in Germany and the United States. These have been amply sufficient to shake confidence out of a hesitating market, and business all round has been extremely slack. The prevailing duliness, and it is the only section showing a week-end raily.

Nothing seems able to shake the conviction showing a week-end raily.

Nothing seems able to shake the conviction here that the United States is due for a lengthy period of prosperity, although even while buying these attractive American securities the critica are unable to disguise their covert resentment at the seemingly universal run of luck in the United States. While home rails have been down from 1 to 24 for the past week and more disquieting rumors of reduced dividends are allow, conservative writers point out that the depression, after all, may be somewhat overdone, and are of the opinion that the worst possible has already been fully discounted and that there is now a fair chance for good investment and buying.

Industrials generally appeared to be in bad shape. The repeated flascos of stock companies have decreased dividends, and the conviction of widespread over-apitalization has taken all the snap out of the market. Apprehension does not diminish, and it is feared worse will follow.

During the past week funds were all down from \(\frac{1}{2} \) to it is feared worse will follow.

During the past week funds were all down from \(\frac{1}{2} \) to it is feared worse will follow.

During the past week funds down the bank failures in Germany and the United States. The Bank of England kindly secentuated this tightness by raising the rate on money to 4 per cent. The trouble in the money market is really more due to the fact that millions of pounds still remain unpaid on the recently sold consols than to the Americ

FOULARD FANCY WAIST.

This Mode Is Appropriate for Albatross, Nun's Veiling, Taffeta or Satin.

MISSES' FANCY WAIST. NO. 8371.

Lime green polkadot foulard is employed for this stylish waist, with vest and coliar of white embroidered chiffen. The foundation is a glove-fitted lining, the seams and darts of which are featherboned.

The back is arranged in three platts running from shoulder to belt in V-shaped outline. A perfect adjustment is maintained by using a plain under-arm gore.

The plaits in the front are stitched down about half way and caught with tiny straps of the foulard, the fullness forming in a blouse over the narrow velvet belt. The plain vest is permanently attached to the ining and the closing made invisibly at the center front.

The sleeves are shaped with inside geams only. They are fitten to the arm by plaits which are stitched up half way to the el-bow. Bands of slik are applied where the stitching ceases and the fullness formed by the plaits falls gracefully over the bands. There are small gathers at the shoulders. The mode is appropriate for albatross, nun's veiling, etamine, taffeta or satin, with velvet, panne, lace or fancy sliks for trimming. The bands may be made of black velvet ribbon caught by small but-tons.

To make the waist for a miss 14 years will require one and three-fourths yards 35-inch material, with one-half yard of embroidery. The pattern, No. 8371, is cut in sizes for Misses 12, 14 and 16 years.

Cassel Treber-Trocknung Company, whose business methods for several years nave been the subject or sharb controversy. The Letpsic failure has caused only two insignicant subpensions, here. Walle an Berlin bank stocks fell sharply and sympathetically, the utmost continuous is expressed that the banks are all perfectly sound. The fact is emphasized that the Letpsiger Bank was ruited by heavy advances to one industrial company, which is contrary to the policy of terman banks. Therefore the failure is not regarded as symptomatic of wider conditions. The spot where considence is most weakened is pacticularly bank shares, which have been offered in enormous quantities since the Leipsic failure. An industrials were also heavily sold, particularly in Saxony, where the feeling seems to prevail that nothing is now safe but Government funds.

The effect of the failure upon the money market has been no diminution of the money supply, but tenders have grown extremely cautious, comanding the most complete proofs of solventy from all borrowers. Hence the monthly settlement is likely to prove the most difficult known for many months, although engagements were very light. The private rate of discount advanced only \(\frac{1}{2}\) to \(\frac{3}{2}\) be per cent in consequence of the Leipsio incident, at which figure it remained throughout the week. Nevertheless the banks are trying to accumulate large cash balances.

All the papers admit that the prompt establishment of a branch of the Dettsche Bank at Leipsic went far toward relieving the situation there.

The dividend estimates of the industrial companies for the twelve months ending to-day show immense reductions, many companies which in the corresponding period of 1893-1900 declared dividends ranging from 15 to 30 per cent now promising dividends ranging all the way from half the former dividends down to nothing.

Bank Statement.

New York, June 20.—The Financier says:

"The bank statement of last week reflected, in the decrease of 10,074,000 in loans, the liqu dation in this item which was in progress during the greater part of the week, and also the elimination from the statement of about $4,000,000 of the loans of the closed Seventh National Bank. The cush was reduced by 1992,700, which amount very closely agrees with the preliminary estimate of the movement of money during the week. It should be noted, however, that the climination of the Seventh National's cash, which, in the previous week was reported at $1,355,400, should be considered as more or less affecting the statement, in explanation of the loss of cash through subtreasury operations, it should be observed that in addition to the excess of ordinary receipts over disbursements, there was a payment into the treasury early in the week of about $1,800,000 by the Cnicago and Northwestern, which, in the previous week, bought from the Government the latter's interest in the Soux City-Pacific Railroad."

Detailed returns of the movement of cash letwen the banks of this city and of the interior direlosed some withdrawals, which may have been caused by apprehensions of trouble, resulting from the Seventh National in the week ending June 21. This total loss by all lanks, however, harmonizes with the decrease of $11,462,290 in deposits includes, of course, the $3,112,400 reported by the Seventh National in the week ending June 21. This total loss by all lanks, however, harmonizes with the decrease of cash and of loans. It is noteworthy that the circulation of the Seventh National, as well as of the other items of that bank. The incidents of the week were of a more or less disturbing character, but the outlook, on the whole, appears favorable. Beginning on due to the fact that millions of pounds still remain unpaid on the recently soid consols than to the American and German troubles. It is not thought these later failures will seriously worry London. Nevertheless, there is no likelihood of the near return of very cheap money.

The prospect of heavy crop moving and the demands of the United States tend to induce London to keep its financial resources well in hand.

Germany.

Berlin, June 29.—The German boerses wers wholly dominated last week by the failure of the Leipziger Bank, the influence of which was stronger than any other incident for vars. The Frankfurter Zeitung says that the lack of confidence is now gerater, perhaps, than at any other time since the pamic of 1872, being reenforced by the continually unfavorable reports regarding general business.

All the weekly reviews point out that the feeling among capitalists is very pessimistic, and while a more confident tone began to develop toward the end of the week appectension is silf-feit lest the evil effects will be long-draw-out.

Hereofore Berlin has suffered comparatively little from the Leipzic incident, the great banks here having long estered clear of the Leipziger Bank owing to the latter's relations with the Bank owing to the latter's relations with the
